NOTES

Care should be taken at the road junctions near the war memorial in Alnwick and riders should regroup after navigating this junction.

The descent from the top of Ros Castle is steep and narrow with a cattle grid half way down the descent.

It is strongly advised to use the footbridge to cross the river before Abberwick. The ford is always slippery and is very dangerous if there has been any rainfall.

Descending Clayport bank into Alnwick the route turns right near the bottom of the decent, simultaneously signalling and breaking for this turning can be difficult so good road positioning should be used to make your intentions clear.
